GYPSUM IN UTAH.

Observations on Its Occurrence by the U. S. Geological Survey. Among the features of Bulletin 142, just released by Director Walcott of the U. S. Geological Survey, is that relating to the deposits of rock-gypsum at Nephi, this State. Investigations there were prosecustate. Investigations there were prosecuted by J. M. Boutwell, the result of whose researches in other camps of Utah are eagerly awaited. It is, says Mr. Boutwell in his contribution to economic geology, the largest well-known deposit of rock gypsum in Utah, and forms the entire mass of a premient spur at the entrance to Sait Lake valley. The exposed portions of this body are about 200 feet thick, 500 feet high along the bedding and at least 700 feet long on the strike. It was known before the town of Nephi was settled, and has probably been known to the whites for nearly eighty years. About thirty-five years ago a claim 600 by 1500 feet in dimensions was formally located, and in 1832 this was patented by John Hague and others under the name of the Jush Plaster and Mining Claim. Small intermittent shipments were made to Sait Lake City in 1887. Its output averages between 7500 and 10,000 tons a year. This includes dental, casting, finishing, land and hard plaster, each appropriately prepared for its special uses. A large and increasing demand is supplied throughout the Great Basin region, and shipments are made as far as Grand Junction on the east, Los Angeles and Hawaii on the south and west and Victoria on the north. ted by J. The metal markets are generally in a more hopeful condition, and most people are looking forward to an improved fail are looking forward to an improved fall business. In copper there is do material change in prices, and domestic producers seem to be buying only necessary supplies. The foreign demand, however, continues excellent, and buying for export is heavy, says the E. & M. Journal. Lead is unchanged, but with a good demand. Silver shows little or no change during the week. The demand from the East has been moderate only.

Accoding to particulars which have just reached a prominent mining man in this city, through arrivals from the west, the ores show nothing less than $500 per ton, with gold predominating, while some show a valuntion of several thousand dollars. The ledge is characterized as a large one, with not a little of this class of ore occurring in it. Several will leave for the locality the present week.

Profit-Taking in Boston.

Special to The Tribune.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 12.—Speculation today was of the profit-taking order and prices continued their reactionary tendency. The buying on the weakness is of the same good character. At times specialties developed strength and showed an inclination to advance. This was especially noticeable among some of the low-priced issues. Trading was well scattered, but there was no particular feature. The market closed heavy, in sympathy with the weakness in the New York market. Ontario Raising Ores.

The Miner of Park City says the Oniarlo hoist is a busy place these days. A force of carpenters machinists and teamsters are at work, rushing the hoist to completion. Most of the framework of the building is up and it will all be enclosed in a couple of weeks. Wednesday night at 9 o clock the water was baled out to the station at the 1700-foot level, the big buckets taken out and the cages put in place. Next day a force of men was put to work and that afternoon the work of hoisting the ore was begun. The 400-ton bin, at the 620-foot level, will be filled and the mill will be started up. The old employees are being put on as rapidly as men are needed. The Miner of Park City says the Oniarlo

Councilmen Saw the Asphalt Bed

And Now They Do Not Know Any More About It Than Before the Trip.

Ten of the fifteen city aldermen made the trip to Thistle yesterday to inspect the asphalt doposits at that place. They report having had a great trip, but admit that they know little more about the merits of the proposition than before they went. Although considerable development work has been done upon the claims they were far from being in shape to make any kind of a reliable examination.

While unable to arrive at any definite opinion as to the quantity of the asphalt, some of the Councilmen believe that it would prove a profitable investment to buy the claims and ship the product to this city. Mile Clark, who owns the claims, has offered to sell them to the city for $600. He owns two claims, comprising an area of ground 2000 feet in length by 600 feet wide. The vein of asphalt is said to be four feet wide, and the mines are situated about three and a haif miles from Thistle, up a steep mountain. While many of the Councilmen who visited the mines think that the proposition is a good one, they desire to get expert opinion on the question before taking any action. Many of the Councilmen have a mistaken idea in regard to the present cost of asphalt to the city. The pure asphaltum costs about $20 a ten delivered here, but one ten of pure asphaltum will make nearly ten tons of the material that is laid down in the streets. The asphalt at Thistle is said to contain only about is per cent of pure asphaltum and it is estimated that it would cost from $1 to $5 to lay the crude product down here.

A meeting of the special asphalt committee will be held Wednesday evening and a report will be received from Will Nebeker, who represents Mile Clark in the transaction. The Councilmen who went on the trip are Hewlett, Martin, Hobday, Procee, Dean, Barnes, Pernstrom, E. H. Davis, Tuddenham, A. J. Davis, Land and Water Commissioner Ben D. Luce was also in the party.
